Founded in 2001, CCI leverages highly experienced, qualified and dedicated professionals to work with private sector, governmental and non-governmental organizations enabling them to accomplish their objectives regardless of the local situation. Catalyst's core capabilities include:

- Design, development and deployment of Emergency Planning and Response Systems to include corporate level integrated Operations Centres as well as forward tactical command nodes.
- Rapidly deployable Security and Risk Management Services that are committed to reducing the impact of security-related threats to organizations that disrupts day-to-day business, targets human resources, property or other assets, or affects general strategic interests.

Emergency Planning and Response Solutions

Catalyst is dedicated to providing end-to-end response solutions for crisis and consequence management. CCI groups together leading experts in the field of Public Safety, Homeland Security and Emergency Management who possess a unique ability to engage multi-disciplined stakeholders to design build and deploy Incident Command System (ICS) and Emergency Operations Centre (EOC) solutions that enhance operating protocols and interagency collaboration at all levels. Catalyst recognizes that organizations are facing unprecedented challenges within the current security/safety paradigm; the "need to share" versus "need to know" mentality is often at odds with the concept of interoperability. To this end, CCI delivers innovative and achievable collaborative solutions that create effective frameworks enabling multi-disciplined Response Teams with Control During Chaos® in the execution of their mission.

CCI specialties include:

- The design, development and deployment of Emergency Operation Centres, both static and mobile, leveraging existing enterprise systems and merging with innovative and proven enabling technologies.
- Designing and implementing for both private and public sector entities:
 - o Information Management Architectures
 - o Incident Response frameworks for routine, crisis and consequence management
 - o Exercise and Training Plans to enable Information Management and protocols

Catalyst has an unparalleled depth of knowledge in EOC operations and requirements, one that can only be obtained through an in-depth understanding of crisis and consequence management as a result of hands-on experience at all levels from the tactical to the strategic across all sectors in the spectrum.

Corporate Responsibility Compliance

CCI's Corporate Responsibility Compliance (CRC) practice is dedicated to enabling Corporations operating in post-conflict and developing nations to deliver increased value to shareholders by enhancing contributions to sustainable development and economic prosperity in local operations.

Service delivery in post-conflict and developing nations is complex and challenging; risk levels are high given that operations face austere, volatile and highly political circumstances in dealing with local governments (in most cases transitional), donor agencies and security risks.

Our CRC Team is composed of International Management Experts experienced in conflict and post-conflict nations who all share a common belief: the private sector can play a critical role in achieving global peace and stability in close collaboration with non-governmental/not-for-profit organizations. CCI CRC services include:

- 1) Management and Performance Frameworks
- 2) Project Monitoring and Evaluation
- 3) Business Continuity Assessments
- 4) Sustainability Reporting
